

GIORGIA BRONZINI TAKES BREAKAWAY SPRINT WIN IN GIRO ROSA STAGE ONE

Wiggle High5 Pro Cycling's Giorgia Bronzini won the opening road stage of the 2016 Giro d'Italia Femminile, between Gaiarine and San Fior, in a sprint from a select breakaway group. The former two-time road World Champion outpaced US Champion Megan Guarnier (Boels-Dolmans) in the race for the line, with Lithuanian Rasa Leleivyte (Aromitalia Vaiano) third after a powerful display from Bronzini's black and orange teammates.

ELISA LONGO BORGHINI A CLOSE SECOND IN GIRO ROSA STAGE TWO

Wiggle High5 Pro Cycling's Elisa Longo Borghini came within just a few metres of victory in the second stage of the Giro d'Italia Femminile, between Tarcento and the uphill finish at Montenars. The Italian Time Trial Champion was narrowly beaten to the line by Evelyn Stevens (Boels-Dolmans), who only managed to squeeze past in the final metres, while Polish Champion Katarzyna Niewiadoma (Rabo-Liv) narrowly beat Wiggle High5 Pro Cycling's two-time Giro winner Mara Abbott in the race for third.
