

Jolien D'hoore just millimetres from victory in Gent-Wevelgem sprint

Wiggle High5 Pro Cycling's Jolien D'hoore was just millimetres from victory in today's Gent-Wevelgem, the fourth race in the 2017 UCI Women's WorldTour. The former Belgian Champion launched her sprint on the left side of the road, but was forced to hesitate as she veered slightly towards the barriers. The close contest was won by Finnish Champion Lotta Lepistö (Cervélo-Bigla), with American Coryn Rivera (Sunweb) third.

Modolo in the top ten at Gent-Wevelgem

The Italian rider from UAE Team Emirates obtained the 10th place in the Belgian Classic which was won by Van Avermaet on Keukeleire. Behind the Belgian duo, Sagan beat in a restricted sprint Terpstra and immediately after the peloton sprinted for the 5th place: Modolo, well supported by Marcato, achieved the goal of being in the top 10. Marcato obtained the 25th place.
